Subhashita 23. Generous trees.

Sandhi rules MUST be followed in poetry. Now that we have learnt a little bit of sandhi, you will begin to appreciate subhashitas even more. Can you identify the three different places in today’s subhashita where sandhi rules have been applied?

छायामन्यस्य कुर्वन्ति तिष्ठन्ति स्वयमातपेः।
फलान्यपि परार्थाय वृक्षः सत्यरुषः: इव ॥

छायाम् shadeअन्यस्य of others कुर्वन्ति (trees) do तिष्ठन्ति stand
स्वयम् (while they) themselves आतपे in the heat.
फलान्यि (their) fruits (are)अपि also परार्थाय for others वृक्षः: trees
सत्यरुषः: good people इव like.

Trees are like good people. They themselves stand in the heat and make shade for another. (Their) fruits are (also) for (the benefit) of others.
